Art Unit: 3634

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-10 and 18 are, drawn to a rope brake, classified in class 188, subclass 65.4.
- II. Claims 11-17 and 19, drawn to a method of securing a safety device relative to a rope, classified in class 182, subclass 5.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used without the process of selectively compressing the rope between the members and bearing members, and the process as claimed could be used on a product, which does not have the rope overlapping itself.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
